Electronic news from the Adelaide Soaring Club

Number 21/2016

31st October, 2016

Welcome to the latest edition of the ASC e-News. (There are a few treats in this edition but definitely no tricks!)

Welcome to Gawler!

Our new Jabiru 24-8538 has safely arrived at the Adelaide Soaring Club and is now tucked in the hanger with the other club Jabiru's. Thanks to Karl Faeth and Sue Ingham for flying her down from Jabiru Aircraft Bundaberg, we all look forward to seeing her in the skies around Gawler next week.

Money Matters...

Could all members who are full-time students or concession members please provide their current cards to the office to substantiate their membership discount.

This needs to be done ASAP and definitely before 1/12/16 otherwise you may have to pay 'full tote odds!'

Also, any members not continuing their membership are asked to email the club advising of this & providing a reason for their resignation so that it can be presented to the committee.

Thanks

Club Aircraft

Members flying LSA aircraft are strongly encouraged to fly club aircraft in preference to cross hired aircraft when there is an option. How do you know if it's a club aircraft? It has our logo on the side (and the financial benefits to the club are quite significant.) This also means that club owned aircraft should be parked closer to the door for easier access!)

A new deck

For a while your committee has been considering an extension to the deck area at the club rooms. As you know this is a popular area, especially when the weather is nice. And so we are seeking expressions of interest from suitably qualified and experienced members who might be interested in volunteering their time to work on this exciting project. If this is you, please contact the club secretary, Daryl Trigg on 0422 572 992 / daryl@ilsq.sa.edu.au

Aviation Safety Seminar at Gawler

CASA will be holding an AV Safety Seminar at Gawler on the 3rd November from 6.00pm to 8.00pm. Some details of the content are below.

The seminar will cover a variety of topics with the main themes for this series being 'Starved and exhausted - Understanding fuel management' and 'Handling partial power loss in single engine aircraft'.

By using case studies from ATSB investigations, our Aviation Safety Advisors will help seminar attendees extract crucial lessons to assist in making better flying decisions.

As well as the main themes, this round of seminars will also provide an update on the Regulatory Reform process, a reminder of the correct procedures to use at Non Controlled Aerodromes, and a discussion on the pros and cons of using personal electronic devices in the aviation environment.

The seminars are an opportunity for industry to interact with CASA, discuss local issues and ask questions of the regulator.

Help make the Skies safe for all, attend a CASA AvSafety seminar in 2016.

For all enquiries please contact your local Aviation Safety Advisor on 131 757.
